BIOGRAPHY:

The journey to the 2017 induction class into the Buffalo Music Hall Of Fame started back in 1994. In October of 1994 Tom Stahl had back surgery and that forced him to quit his truck-driving career. He had a degree in Communications, but had written a song or two, and with the support of his wife Mary Lou, he decided to continue in that direction. Tom picked up his guitar and turned to music. In early 1995 he went to an open mic at Nietzsche's in Buffalo NY with four original songs. The organizer of the open mic, Michael Meldrum, asked Tom to come back and do a songwriter showcase in March 1995. In the Spring of that same year, he brought his best tunes out on a debut cassette entitled "I Wanna Be Ignorant". Now there's a CD bearing the same name, the same tunes and a generous helping of extra tracks to go with them. The ball started rolling from there. In 1996, Tom came out with his second CD, entitled "The Song Is The Thing". Over the next three years, Tom released two more original CDs entitled "Hang On" and "Shut Up and Smell The Coffee" with the backing of his band [originally known as the Tom Stahl Band, now known as Tom Stahl And The Dangerfields]. In 2000 they collaborated on the 1st CD bearing that name. The CD was entitled "Nothing", and was released in 2001. The songs from this CD were featured on the Food Network show, "Food Nation" with Bobby Flay. The band also made special cameo appearances on this show. In May 2002 they released, "At The Tralf" (as Tom so eloquently put it "just in time for Mother's Day"), a set of live recordings from a December 2001 concert. In April 2003, the band released the 7th CD entitled, "Most Town". The 8th CD followed in December 2006, "King Of The World". Tom went back to his roots & recorded an Acoustic CD of some of his favorites along with some new songs in August of 2011. This CD became available for sale in early 2012. The 10th CD entitled "You Are Here, Be Here", featuring the band was released in May 2014 followed by the 11th CD entitled "This World Right Here" with a release date of July 2016. Tom as a solo artist and with his band mates, has opened for such acts as Three Dog Night, Eric Burdon & The Animals, Loverboy, Joan Osborne, America, Don McLean, Poco, Sara Craig, Black 47, Moxy Fruvous, Tom Cochrane, David Wilcox, John Gorka, Dave Mason, Ron Hawkins [Lowest Of The Low], Artimus Pyle [the original drummer for Lynyrd Skynyrd], Blues Legend Buddy Guy, Paul Revere And The Raiders, Leon Russell, Ellis Paul, Martin Sexton, John Sebastian [The Lovin' Spoonful], Vance Gilbert, Loudon Wainwright III, The Tubes, Peter Case and Gurf Morlix. The Dangerfields have been labeled as R&B, folk, rock, pop, rockabilly, and country. Their sound has been described as a cross between The Eagles, Bob Dylan, Tom Petty & the Barenaked Ladies. We call it "Dangerfieldesque". What everyone DOES agree upon is that this is some of the best songwriting you are likely to hear east of Eden..

SOME QUOTES/TESTIMONIALS:

"Tom Stahl & the Dangerfields, an inventive band that never seems to get the attention it deserves".

- Dan Herbeck, The Buffalo News

"...“Angels” would be perfect for a country, pop or light vocal radio format. Stahl has provided Buffalo radio with the rare opportunity to break out a national hit from a local record."

- Anthony Violanti, The Buffalo News

"Tom Stahl, Master Of The Three-Minute Story... It takes a lot of song for a man with a harmonica, a guitar and his voice alone to fill a stage and keep an audience enthralled for two full sets."

- The Buffalo News

“He mixes thoughtful and poignant lyrics with low-key comedy, producing a show that flows like the calm before and after the storm. He writes jewel-like, masterful folksongs.”

- The Buffalo News

“His clear tenor conveys a wide range of emotions and takes on a Bob Dylan quality at times... his thoughtful lyrics also at times make a listener think of the prolific writings of Billy Joel...”

- Eileen Hotho, The Sun

- Buffalo Spree

"Stahl writes some of the wittiest and loveliest songs you'll ever hear, and catchy melodies. Live, he is an engaging performer with a unique vocal delivery. There is nothing typical about Tom Stahl."

- Geoff Kelly, Artvoice

“His music is a collage of life. Some humorous, some deeply moving, often chaotic, Stahl has captured the insanity of our existence, and somehow, made us smile.”

- Nancy Jo Eckerson, Buffalo Friends Of Folk Music

“Tom Stahl is an eclectic singer songwriter and unique performer.”

- Bob Silvestri, Best Of WNY.com

“I fell immediately in love with the man and his work... He’s a genuinely good man with a good heart, and his songs are as good as he is. He can do it all in three minutes.”

- Mike Meldrum, Buffalo Folk Legend

“Not only is he adept in his craft... but he’s got a way of making the songs sound like what they mean. And that’s what it’s all about.”

- Mike Oliver, Songwriter

“He makes the connection as a song writer. He's a great storyteller, and there's a genuineness in his story.”

- Mike Ryan, 101.1 FM - The River
